Pacific Business Days By RPPS

[MARCH
20th > 23^h 2018
Tahiti - French Polynesia]

SOUTH PACIFIC EMPLOYERS ORGANIZATION (RPPS)

15 COUNTRIES, 15 POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC DELEGATIONS
FOR TRADING AND MEETINGS.

CONTEXT AND OBJECTIVES OF THE RPPS

While sharing the same geographical area, a lot of economies in the Pacific only have little commercial trade through which their production, expertise, and specific features could be enhanced.

Representing more than 2000 companies in French Polynesia and New Caledonia, the RPPS was launched in 2016. The Pacific Business Forum in New Caledonia showed its interest in the stimulation of economic and commercial trade in the South Pacific zone.

The declared objective of The Pacific Business Days (or PBDs) is to foster direct communication among the delegations of the main exporting countries in the area.

Each delegation is made up of a Minister of Economic Affairs or an institutional representative, a private sector representative, a chamber of commerce and industry representative, and manufacturers wishing to promote their core resources and Industries.

INVITED COUNTRIES

15 invited countries: Australia, Fiji, Cook Islands, Easter Island, Solomon Islands, Niue, New Zealand, New Caledonia, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Tokelau, Tonga, Tuvalu, Vanuatu, Wallis and Futuna.

EXCHANGE FORMAT

PLENARY SESSIONS

Geopolitical and economic presentation of delegations: general presentation, economic wealth, commercial trades and investments.

CONFERENCES AND DEBATES

Stimulating entrepreneurial and commercial synergies around the following topics: transportation between islands, digital communication, production sectors, strategic investments.

B2B MEETINGS

Business leaders will be able to meet their peers by sector and investments. A special room and agents will be available for the connections platform.

THE PACIFIC PAVILION

An exhibition space will allow each delegation to present its primary assets. We'll also give local manufacturers and artisans who have exportable resources the opportunity to set up a booth. Cultural events will accompany the highpoints of PBD and the Pavilion.

DELEGATION MEETINGS

Every country's delegation composed of the political representative, the employer representation and an industrial or investor is invited to register with the organizing committee if they will to meet another country's delegation.

EVENING EVENTS

3 evening events will give a certain rhythm to the Pacific Business Days and welcome informal exchanges between business leaders and politicians.
